

“Nina G: More than just a comedian!”

Testimonials from event planners who hired comedian, author, educator and keynote speaker, Nina G...

Corporate Speaking

“We hired Nina G for a corporate event focusing on raising disability awareness. The event could not have gone better thanks to Nina G. She used the perfect mix of humor and education to drive the point across. I would highly recommend her.”

Keynote Speaking

“Nina G was incredible on all levels. From our first phone call to the actual event, I was very pleased with the services she provided. She tailored her talk perfectly for our community audience. Her anti-bullying presentation mixed along with personal anecdotes gave us much insight into the world of a stutterer. Her words were also a source of strength and motivation for everyone present. I would highly recommend hiring Nina G for your next event.”

“Nina G provided a keynote presentation as well as facilitated 2 panel discussions of adults with disabilities. I had so many participants come to me, some in tears of gratitude, thanking me for bringing her in. She shares her perspective and story in a way that really allows for others to see what people with disabilities may be experiencing, and she's also really funny! I would highly recommend bringing her to speak to your team!”

“Nina G was our keynote speaker for the Oregon Association on Higher Education and Disability Fall Conference. She was EXACTLY what we were looking for in a keynote. She was engaging, informative, funny, serious, and pushed our boundaries. You should book her today!”

“We booked Nina G for Disability Acceptance Week at my university. She's definitely funny but we got a lot more than a comedian--her social and cultural commentary was exceedingly on point. She performs important social activism through her comedy. This was definitely more than I bargained for (in a good way) when booking a comedian. She is able to be funny, insightful, scathing, and approachable all at once. On a business note, throughout the booking process, she was an excellent communicator: flexible, direct, and reliable. I'd book her again!”

College Appearances

“Saw Nina G for the first time at USF for Disability Awareness Week. She was one of the most funny, educational, warm, and engaging speakers I have ever seen. Not only did she provide a comprehensive overview of disabilities in general, learning disabilities, and stuttering, she did so with humor, wit, and compassion. Her stories were touching and funny, but also educational. She did not ‘hit you over the head with the disability/ADA bat’ but, instead, provided a narrative that brought the listener inside the experience of a person with a disability. Nina G is a true professional, and someone I will see again and again. Excellent performance!”

“We hired Nina for two events on campus as part of our Disability Awareness Month Celebration. Nina Performed her one woman comedy show followed by a Q & A, then returned the next day to host a seminar on Universal Access. Her comedy show was the perfect blend of humor and social activism. She was a big hit with everyone from students to administrators, finding a way to connect to, and engage our diverse student population. We were very pleased with both events. Nina was a pleasure to work with from the very start and remained flexible throughout the entire process. She did her research and really tailored her show to the audience, which was greatly appreciated. We would hire her again in a heartbeat!”

Presentations to Youth

“Nina G presented at the 2015 Montana Youth in Transition conference and was very well received by everyone in attendance. Our audience consists of youth, parents, educators and service providers from various agencies, and she was able to impact audience members from all those groups. One teacher commented: ‘She had an amazing and empowering presentation that inspired my students to work towards greater self-acceptance, self-advocacy and activism’. Her use of humor, personal stories of struggle and triumph, and peppering it all with powerful tools for lives in transition, made for a highly motivating and inspirational presentation.”

“I had heard good things about Nina G. as a comedian and speaker, and she lived up to every positive thing! She even surpassed our expectations! Nina spoke to the high school age students with disabilities at our Kansas Youth Leadership Forum, and she was a wonderful speaker. Our youth loved her and really connected with her humor and her story. Nina was interactive, hilarious, articulate, and understood how to connect with teens. Not only that, but we heard lots of compliments from the adults in the room as well. She was able to appeal to all ages. Nina was also really great about working with us on a price that could work with our non-profit budget. I would highly recommend Nina G. for any audience or event! She is a fantastic, energetic keynote speaker!”

Professional Training

“Nina provided an eight hour training for our staff on issues surrounding disability and universal design. Nina delivered the information in different modalities (i.e. visual, audio and kinetic) which assured each learning style was able to access what was being presented. Nina has a strong grasp of her subject matter which is complex and often hard to understand. Nina made it clear, providing space for questions and conversations. She is professional and warm and the day went by very quickly for all the attendees.”

“I have attended several of Nina's talks/presentations and she is always phenomenal. I gain new and useful information every single time. We like her so much we ask her to come back to our company once a year. This year we asked her to speak about issues around disabilities. She blends information, awareness and humor in her presentations. She has a great way of presenting information and creating space for audience members to ask questions. She is engaging and shares very relevant personal experiences to illustrate her teaching points. She's warm, charismatic and very funny. We can't wait to have her come back to speak next year!”

“Nina G is a great trainer who can really connect with each person. With staff having different skills and different beliefs, Nina presented a universal approach that we can all support. My team enjoyed the presentations, discussions and BINGO exercise. All in all, it was a wonderful opportunity to learn. It was also awesome to hear about Nina's own life experiences. We look forward to Nina's next training.”

“Nina is absolutely wonderful! She is friendly, kind, and easy to work with. She spoke with our staff and did a wonderful job talking about disabilities, disability services, and accommodations. Everyone left the presentation better educated and with thoughts on how to better support individuals with intellectual disabilities. Nina also provided a comedy show as part of a fundraising event later in the evening. Not only did the show make people laugh, she helped the audience think about disability issues in a whole new light. We are extremely thankful we had the opportunity to work with her. Thank you Nina!”
